THE WARRIOR

FULLERTON HIGH SCHOOL

Fullerton, Nebraska

After a full day's work of shooting group pictures, there is a time when the staff can grab a bottle of pop and reorganize the day's paper work.

Editor's Foreword

In the pages to follow, the '63 WARRIOR Staff with the invaluable help of our sponsor Mr. Hendricks has attempted to record the day-to-day learning process, activities, and all phases of Fullerton High School life in words and pictures. We of the staff hope that this volume will in the future provide an interesting reference of classmates and faculty who befriended and guided us through these all important and memorable years.

Administration Inaugurates New Policy

MR. WILLARD F. HUNZEKER

Superintendent of Schools
A.B., Peru State Teachers College
M.S., University of Omaha

The School Board of Fullerton High School was (standing) Mr. Willard Hunzeker, Mr. Edmund Balasa, Mr. Jack Russell, Mr. John Brower, (seated) Mr. Vance Bard, Mr. Bob Johnson, and Mr. Ronald Christensen, President of the Board.

for Honoring Honor Roll Students

This year the administration of Fullerton High School made arrangements to honor all honor roll students each quarter at a special honor student dinner with local businessmen. The honors dinner was well received by all concerned and provided for recognition of students who have excelled scholastically.

Along with the introduction of the honors dinner, the 1962-1963 school year proved to be another successful year with Mr. Willard F. Hunzeker serving his fifth year as Superintendent of the Fullerton Public Schools. Mr. Warren Dickey was also serving his fifth year as Principal of Fullerton High School.

Familiar faces were to be found at all school board meetings again this year as the school board retained its same membership as last year. Both Mr. Robert Johnson and Mr. Vance Bard were re-elected to three year terms at last spring's elections.

MR. WARREN DICKEY

Principal of Fullerton High School
A.B., Doane College
M.S., University of Nebraska

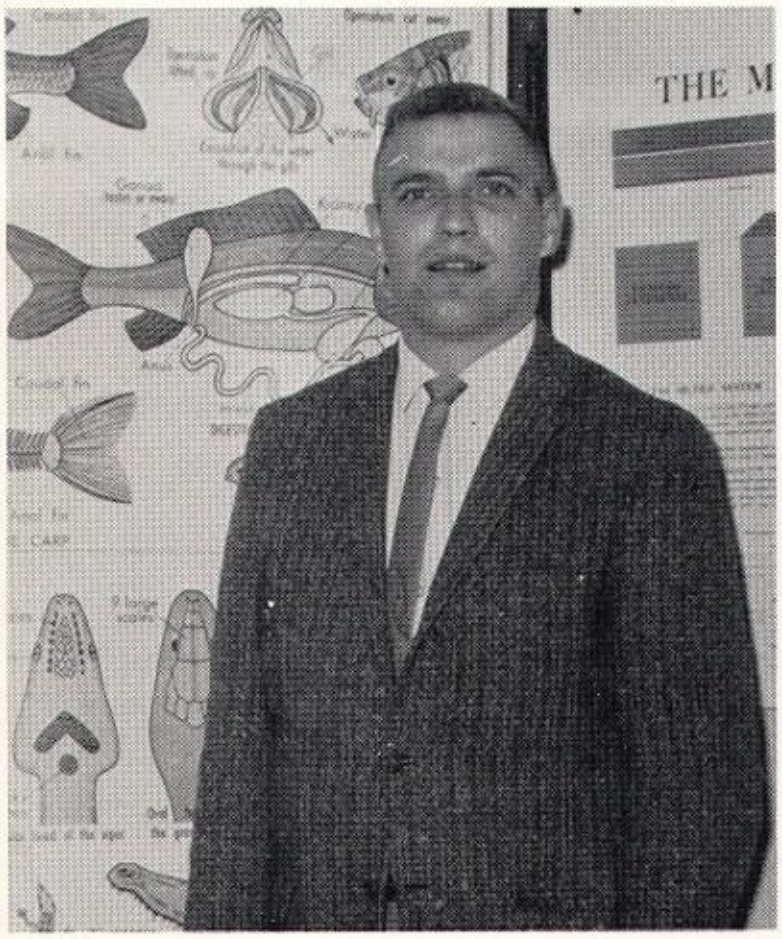
Mrs. Margaret Leininger is the faithful secretary in Mr. Hunzeker's office who always has a smile and a good word for everyone.

F.H.S. Faculty Has

Five new faces appeared in the classrooms of Fullerton High School this year when Mr. Arndt, Miss Malone, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Miller, and Mr. Nabity joined the faculty. With the new faculty members, the total number of teachers increased to fourteen which is one more than last year.

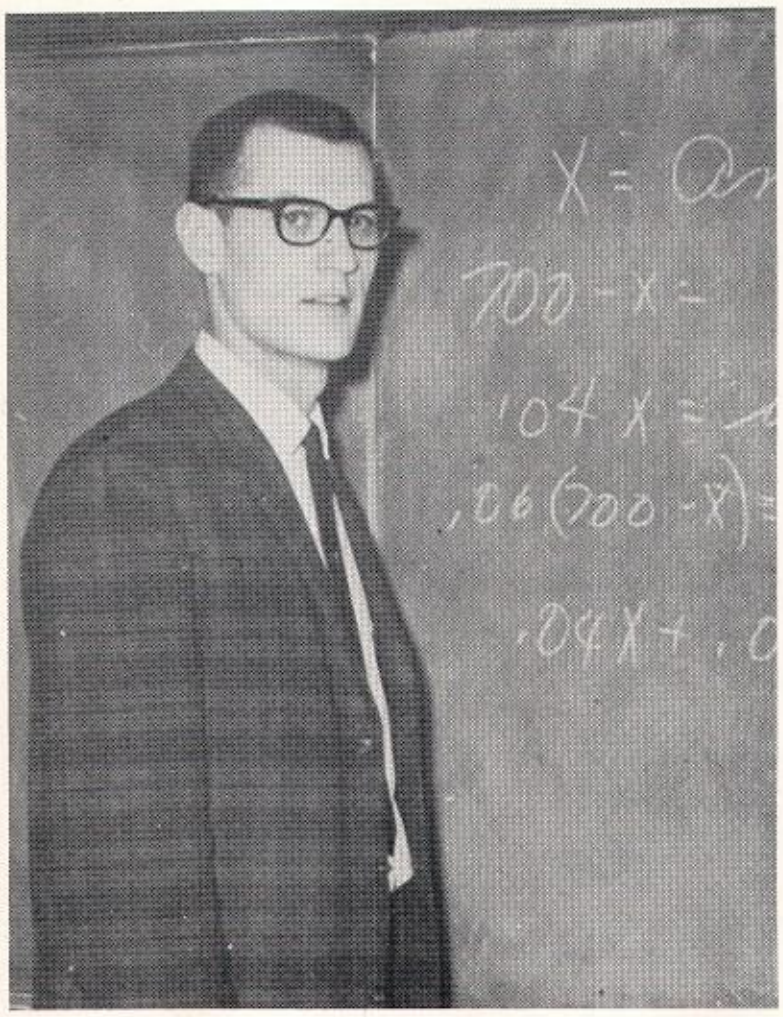
Professional advancement is one of the many areas in which the faculty is active. Many of the instructors spent last summer doing graduate work in their teaching areas and were to be found doing graduate study in schools in Nebraska and Wyoming to schools in California.

Most of the faculty members are also active in the community activities. Several instructors hold offices in community organizations or are extremely active in them. Many of the faculty members are active in the churches and the instructional programs of the churches. Through their activities, the faculty has built up an impressive record of professional and community service.



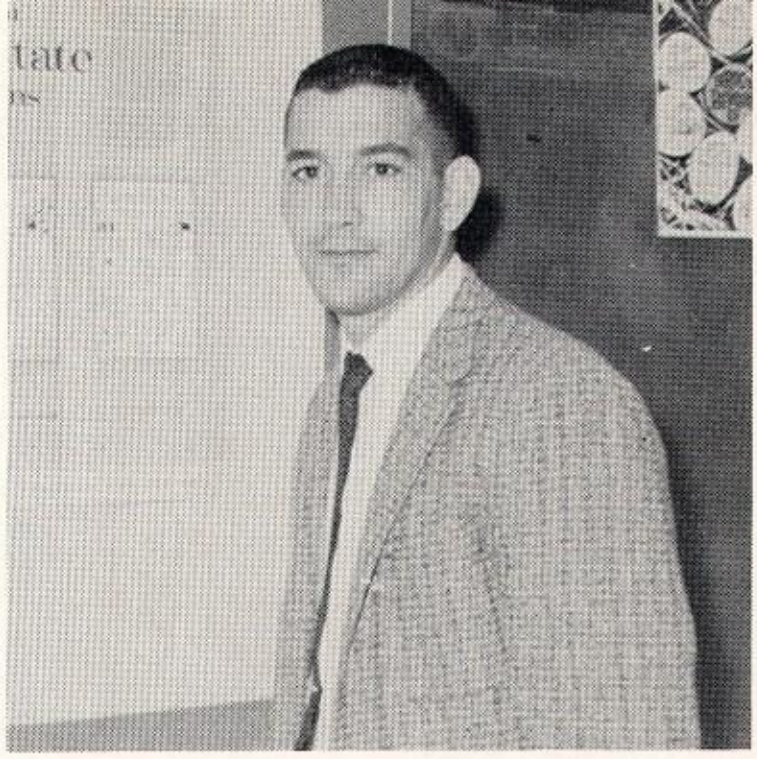
MR. CORWIN ARNDT received his B.S. degree from Peru State Teachers College. This year Mr. Arndt taught Biology and grade science.

MR. RAY EHLERS received his B.S. degree from Peru State Teachers College and this year taught Industrial Arts and Physical Education and coached basketball. He also co-sponsored F Club.



MR. JERRY BECKMANN received his A.B. degree from Peru State Teachers College. Besides being assistant coach in football, basketball, and track, he taught Mathematics and Physical Education. He also sponsored the Freshman Class.

Five New Members



MR. JERRY GRANCER received his B.S. degree from Peru State Teachers College. Mr. Grancer coached football and track besides his duties as Social Science and Driver's Education instructor. He was the co-sponsor of the F Club.

MR. ROBERT HENDRICKS received his A.B. degree from Kearney State Teachers College. This year he was sponsor of the WARRIOR and Junior Class play director and taught English and World History.

MRS. DOLORES FLOTREE received her A.B. degree from Kearney State Teachers College. This year Mrs. Flotree sponsored the Y-Teens and taught English.

MR. CORNELIUS KELLY received his A.B. degree from Wayne State Teachers College. Mr. Kelly taught English and Spanish and co-sponsored the Junior Class.

Professional Advancement

MRS. JEANETTE KNOWLES received her A.B. degree from Doane College. Mrs. Knowles was the high school librarian and sponsored the Pep Club.

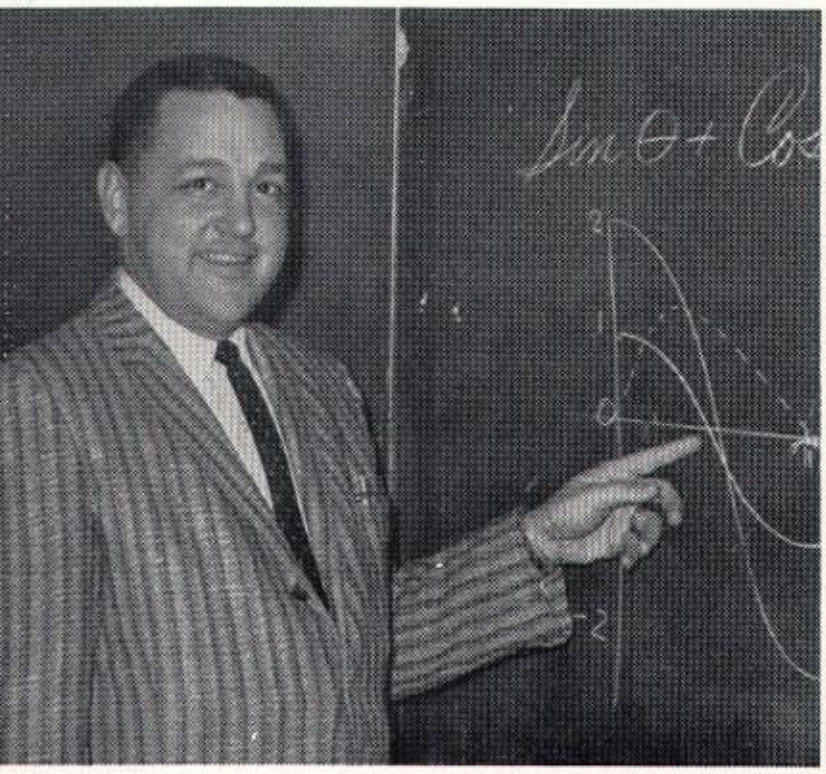
MISS JANET MALONE received her B.S. degree from the University of Nebraska. Miss Malone taught Home Economics and sponsored the Future Homemakers of America.

MR. ELMER MILLER received his B.S. degree from the University of Nebraska. Mr. Miller taught Vocational Agriculture and sponsored the Future Farmers of America.

MR. VIRGIL NABITY received his teaching certificate from St. Benedict's College. Mr. Nabity taught Chemistry, General Science, and General Math besides co-sponsoring the Junior Class.

Rates High

MRS. DORIS WRAGGE received her A.B. degree from Peru State Teachers College. She taught all the courses in the Commercial Department this year and was the Senior Class co-sponsor.

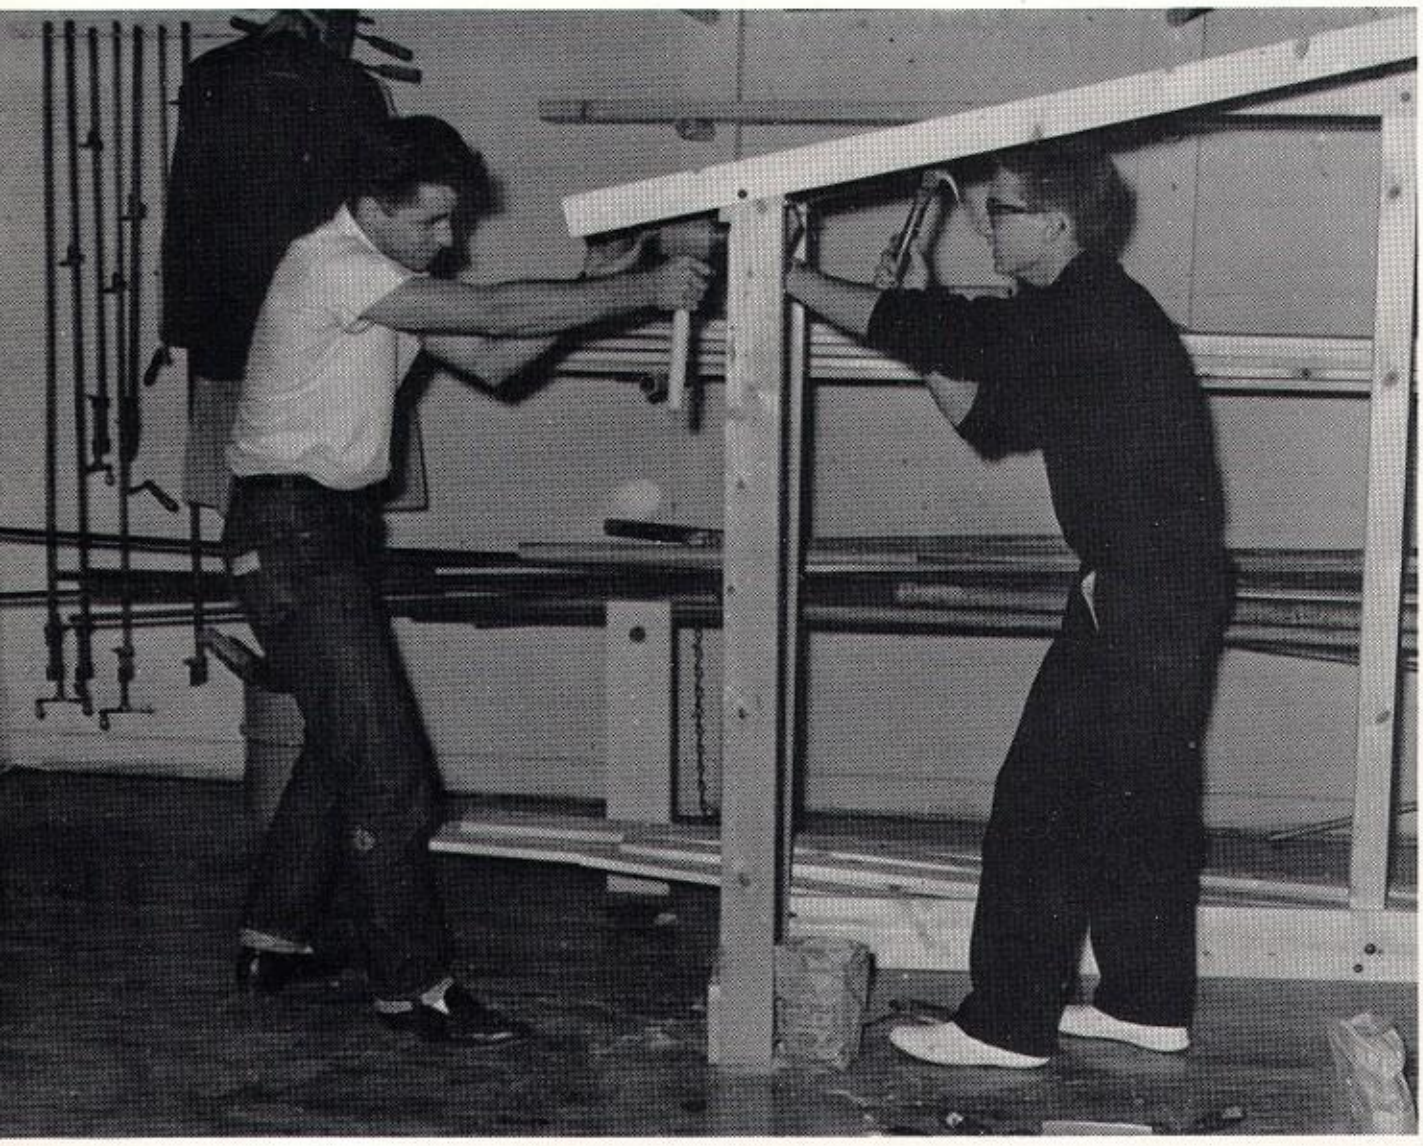


MR. EARL VESKERNA received his A.B. degree from Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mr. Veskerna taught in the fields of Mathematics and Physics and directed the Senior Class play.

MR. GARY YOST received his A.B. degree from Nebraska Wesleyan University. He directed the vocal and instrumental music programs and also sponsored the Sophomore Class this year.

Miss Malone finds that her turn has come for her tuberculin test.

Students Get Actual Experience



Roger Wozny and Ron Lesiak are busy building a frame for a farm building in Voc.-Ag. Class.

A group of observing Home Economics girls are planning flatware for their future homes.

in Commercial and Vocational Classes

The vocational and commercial areas of study are designed in such a fashion as to give the students actual experience. In Home Economics and Vocational Agriculture the students combine both in-class situations and learning procedures with class and individual projects. The students studying in these areas learn how to use correctly the tools which are available besides the correct care of the tools. Industrial Arts is another area which is closely related to the above-mentioned fields of study. In both beginning and advanced woodworking the students study the tools, their use and care, and learn to take pride in the finished projects.

The Commercial Department provides for another area in which the students gain vast amounts of experience. Typing, Office Practice, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping are all offered to the students who wish to gain a working knowledge of any one of these fields.

This year the Commercial Department taught a number of classes for adults in the community who were interested in the areas of typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand.

Students in Industrial Arts Class learn to set a splice between two porous surfaces.

Bookkeeping students often spend hours out of class working practice sets.

Students Take Active Roll

In English Class, Treva Baker, Morris McIntyre and Lana Wondercheck portray the "Sleepwalking scene from Macbeth."

One of the new twists to add interest in this year's senior English class was having students prepare sections of plays and other works for originality and extra credit. This year, seniors studied development, interpretation, and application of English literature.

One of the more interesting phases of speech class is the section on demonstration talks. The speech course begins with short impromptu speeches and works toward the goal of an eight to ten minute prepared oration.

Mr. Yost is occupied several hours during each day and after school in tutoring future band students in music application.

In American History, students become acquainted with the development of our United States. They also discuss the fundamentals of the practices that are used today in democracy.

All students are free to use the library to supplement class instruction.

Studious sophomores employ the resources of the library to prepare outside reports.

in Language, Arts, and Social Science

Mr. Yost listens as Judy Schweitz receives a personal lesson.

Bev Knowles demonstrates teasing the hair as accomplice, Lynda Lucy, listens.

As class participates in an open discussion, Cheryl Farrar locates important developmental points.

Students Meet Challenge While Taking

Dean Bard and Patsy Voichahoske complete a typical Trigonometry problem.

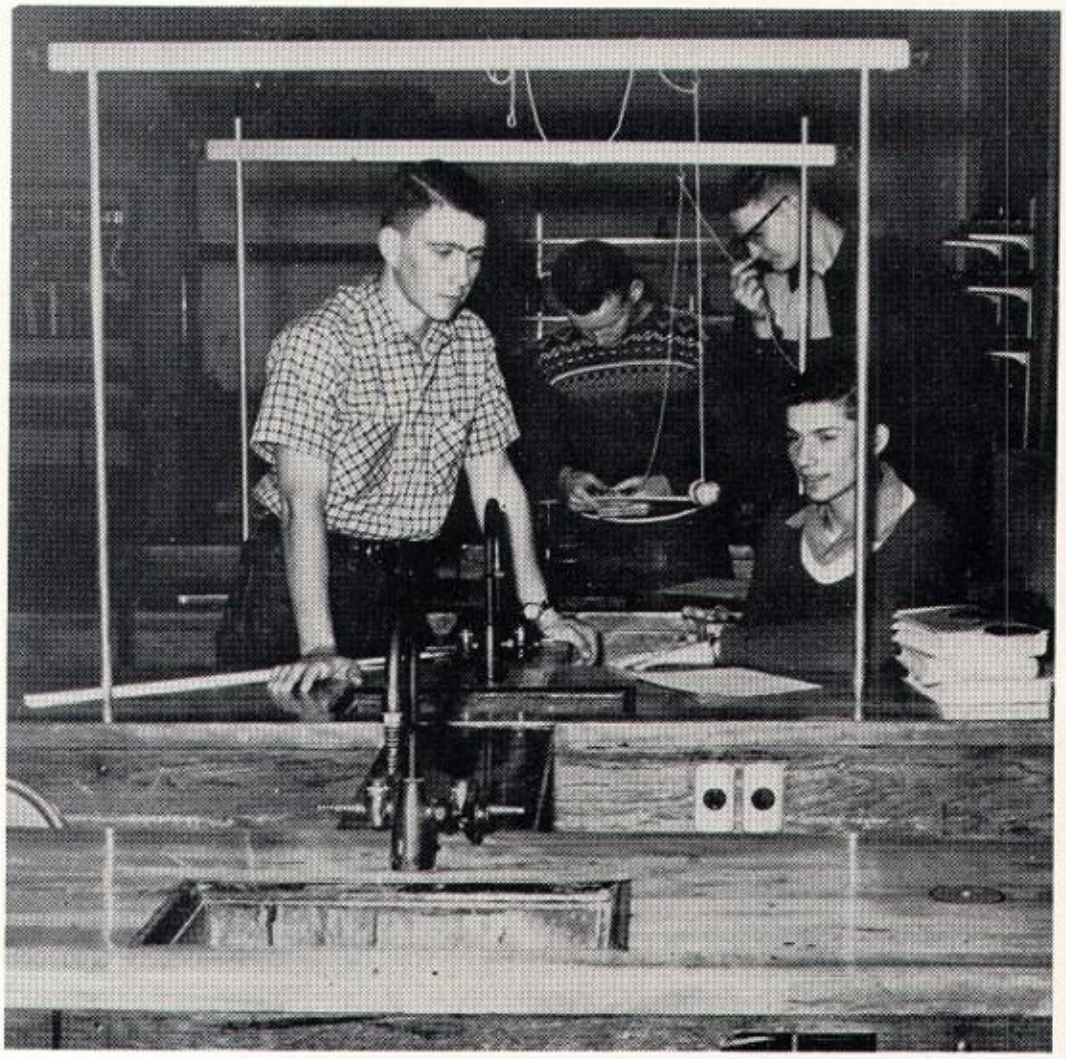
For students enrolled in college preparatory courses, many complex mathematics and upper lab sciences are required. Freshmen may begin by enrolling in Algebra and progressing to Trigonometry.

Among the sciences, Biology, Physics, and Chemistry furnish practical student lab experiences to parallel knowledge presented in textbooks. In Biology, the study of plants and animals, students learn by first hand dissection of both. In Physics, the study of matter and energy, students become familiar with the forces that govern these components while Chemistry deals with the forms of matter and the changes which they undergo.

Embarking upon a fish dissection are Walt Zumbrunn and Mick Uzendoski while John Swertzic completes a drawing.

Mathematics and Science Courses

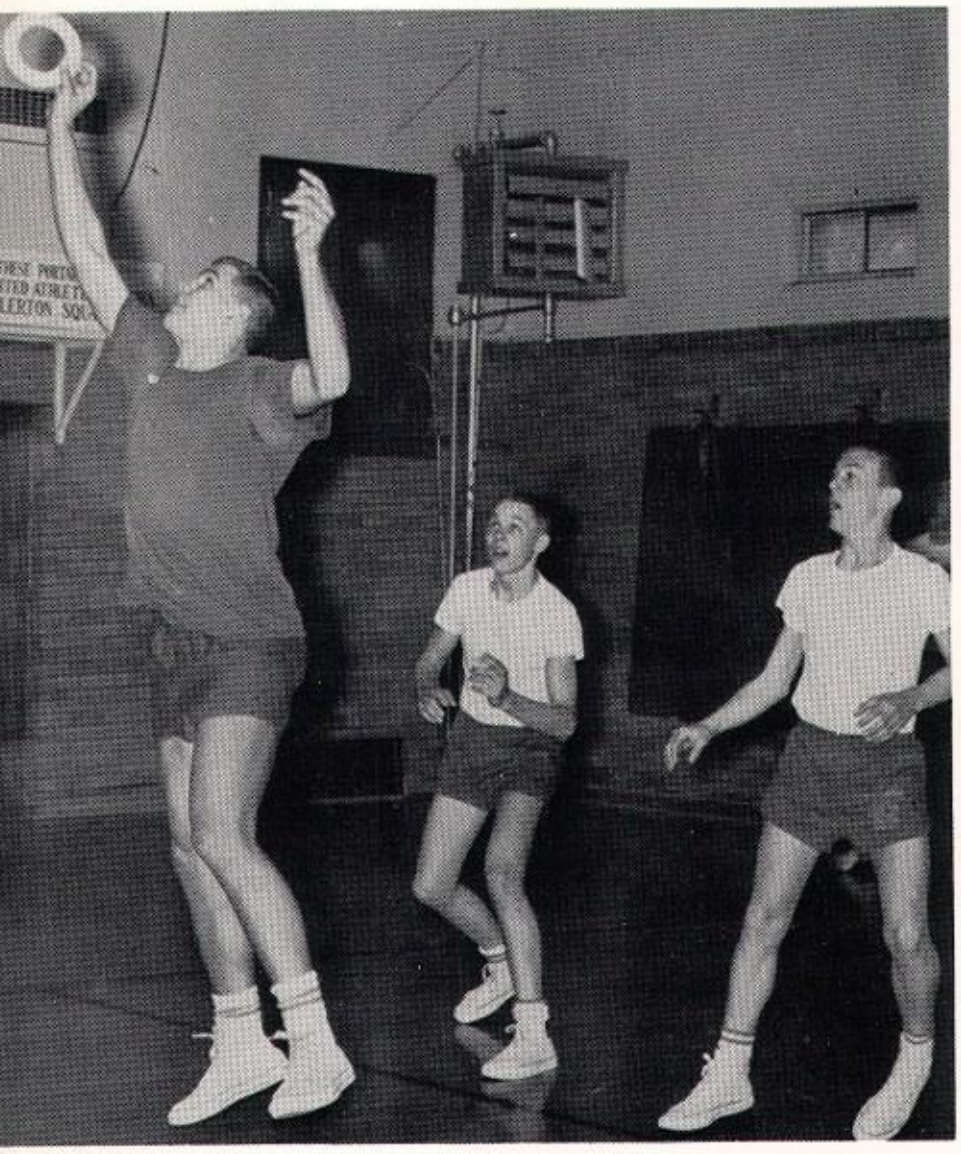
Mr. Beckmann looks on as his students attack an algebra problem.



The inquisitive Physics students prepare for a project in pendulum study.

Students in Chemistry prepare to use the microscope to examine laboratory-created crystals.

Drivers Ed. Physical Ed. Available to All Students



A magnetic traffic board helps Driver's Training students visualize traffic hazards in the classroom.

Agility and nimbleness are required of physical education students as they play a variation of volleyball.

Biweekly exercises, including calisthenics and sports, keep physical education students fit.

Classes

One of the highlights of the first week of school was the freshman dance sponsored by the seniors as illustrated in the above picture.

Wragge Elected

One of the larger classes to graduate from Fullerton High School, the class of 1963, showed great promise scholastically. One third of the class was eligible to participate in the Regents examination.

Some of the projects used to raise money for the trip to Chicago were the following: The Sadie Hawkins Dance, baby picture contest, the coat check stand at the basketball games, concessions at games, and the Senior Class play, "Girl Crazy."

Giving the seniors assistance in making the last year a memorable one were Mrs. Wragge and Mr. Dickey.

Junior Class Takes

Smallest Class Honors

Getting class rings was the beginning of an action-packed year for the Junior Class. The class was the smallest at Fullerton High School, and also one of the busiest. Magazine sales, led by Lynda Lucy, topped $900 this year. Other means of making money employed by the enterprising Junior Class were concessions at football and basketball games, and the class play. The play, "The Inner Willy," was a rousing success. Some considered it the best class play in years.

Juniors will never forget the fun and worries of putting together a banquet and prom honoring the senior class. Assistance and guidance were provided by Mr. Cornelius Kelly and Mr. Virgil Nabity, sponsors of the class.

The intellectual aspects of high school life were not neglected, as a large percentage of the class took the National Merit Examination in March. These are just a few of the highlights of a truly memorable year for all concerned.

Sophomore Class Excels in All School Activities

Fifty-one students were enrolled in the Sophomore Class in Fullerton High. Sophomores brought forth academic proficiency as well as excellent development in leadership and athletics. The Sophomores sponsored a Christmas party and dance for the student body after the Fullerton-Tilden basketball game.

Geometry, Biology, English, and World History were only a few of the many courses taken by the Sophomores to develop their scholastically inclined minds.

In assisting the Sophomores with their problems and undertakings, sponsor Mr. Yost, willfully donated his time, effort, and encouragement.

Sophomore Class Officers this year were Jerry Sharman, vice president; Chuck Bowman, president; and Dan Bourn, secretary-treasurer.

Faaborg Elected Class President

Sixty-eight Freshmen entered the halls of Fullerton High School this year with the honor of being the largest class in F.H.S. and the largest Freshman Class in recent years. After their first week of being newcomers, they were honored at a dance which was sponsored by the Senior Class.

The frosh were not slow in becoming active members in the school of F.H.S. as many became active participants in school organizations and athletics. The Freshmen were not only active in extracurricular activities, but they also excelled in all phases of their academic work.

This year Mr. Elmer Miller was the Freshman Class sponsor. He was assisted by class officers Loren Faaborg, Jeff Keller, Dan Meyers, and Mary Randall.

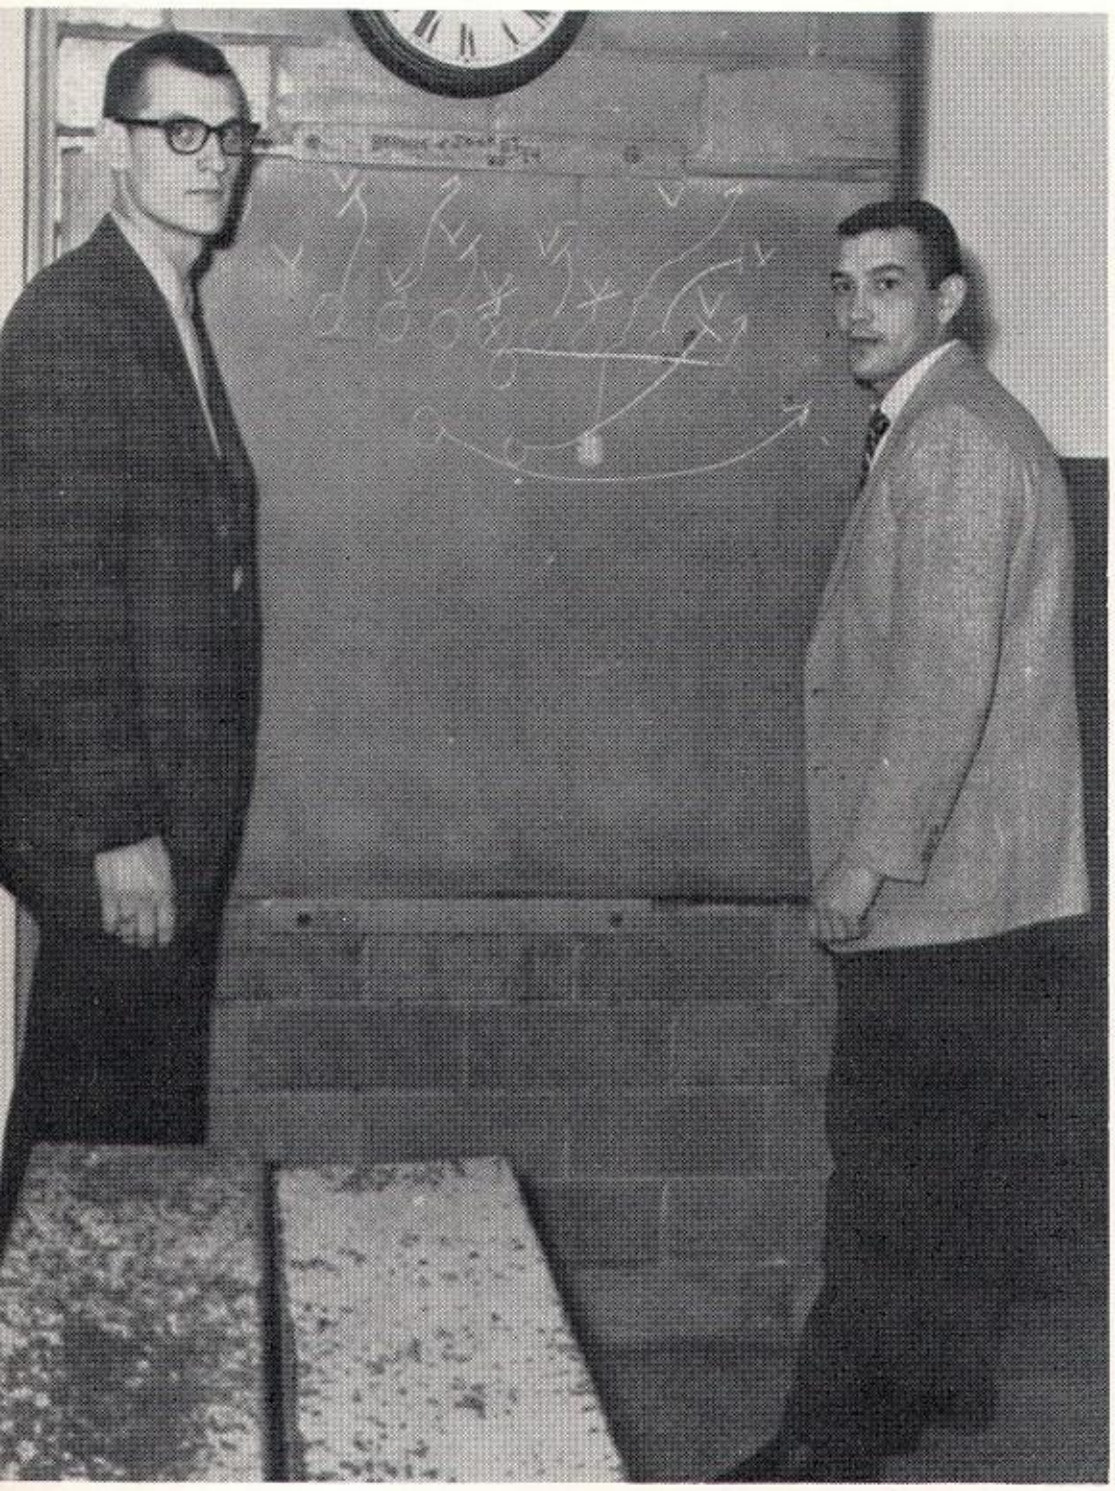
Athletics

Whether home or away, one of the more colorful pre-game activities is the entrance of the team through the Pep Club arch.

Beckmann Assists Grancer in Football



Coach Jerry Grancer assumed the head coaching duties in Football for his third year while Coach Jerry Beckmann became the assistant coach this year.

This year forty players reported for the squad. Many of the underclassmen were used as back-up men for the lettermen.

Sophomores Horacek, Beaman, Christensen, and Gilson gained much valuable experience and will be called upon next year to fill many positions left by graduation.

Warrior football hopes were given a setback this year by some of the more powerful Class B clubs in the state. The Warriors started the season against the well-balanced and powerful Loup City clan who showed their strength in a convincing victory. The next eleven to meet on the Warrior turf were from Schuyler. In this game the home tribe was dumped into a scoreless game.

The Warriors came back the next week to give the Central City Bison a close game with the Bison winning in the last quarter 14-13. Genoa fell to the Warriors 7-6 in a close spirited game for the Warriors' only victory. The Warriors found a rough road to travel against the powerful Aurora club. In this game Butch Horacek picked up a fumble and rambled 92 yards to pay dirt. John Wragge scored on a 78 yard run on the first play of the game, and Don Johnson scored on a 34 yard pass interception.

Ord left the Warriors with a 20-6 defeat along with Seward by the same score. F.H.S.'s six points against Seward came on an 88 yard punt return by Marc Baue. The games with Albion and David City found an injury riddled Warrior squad that just kept on giving their best.

John Wragge (47) smashes into the Seward line for a short gain.

Three Seniors Make All-Conference

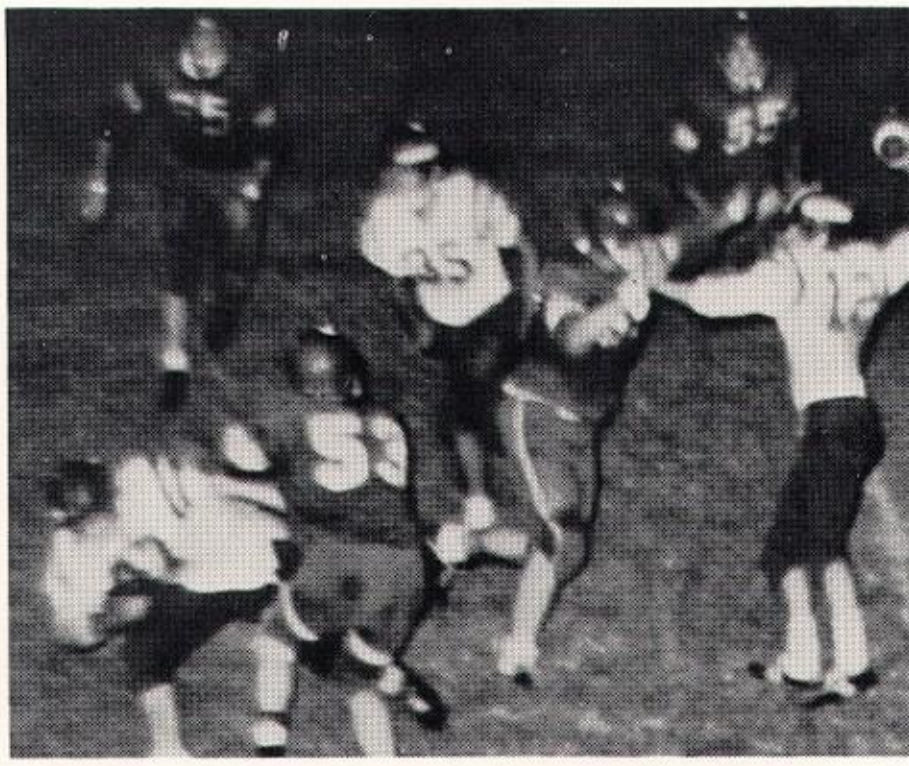
John Rice (37) left two Central City players in his dust as he twisted, ran, and scored the first six points of the game.



Morris McIntyre (12) had his hands full against the Schuyler eleven while attempting a pass. John Wragge (47) throws a block in an attempt to provide protection.

Ehlers Serves Third Year as Head Coach

Coach Jerry Beckmann joined the coaching staff this year while serving his third as a member of the F.H.S. faculty. Coach Ray Ehlers resumed his third season as the head basketball tutor.

The coaches had to form practically a whole new team after last year's team was riddled through graduation. As the season progressed, a number of sophomores gained poise and earned good berths on the varsity. This is in evidence of the six sophomores who earned the right to wear the varsity suits. Two Juniors earned varsity berths along with five seniors.

Student managers for this year's basketball team were Larry Grotelueschen and John Wragge.

Sophomores Gain Varsity Berths

Mick Uzendoski (44) shoots for two as teammate Beaman (40) looks on.

Inexperience hindered the Warrior roundballers throughout the season this year as the F.H.S. varsity won five and dropped thirteen. The Warriors dropped the Neligh and Seward road games and played the Genoa five in a thrilling 39-42 overtime game. The next home game found the Warriors over Tilden 60-49, but the Central City club fired back with a 38-63 win.

The M.B.N. Tournament at Albion matched Genoa against Fullerton again and this time the Warriors won 42-35. The semifinals with Albion and runner-up spot proved to be the Warrior's undoing.

The following three games after the tournament failed to produce a win; but in a regular season game with Albion, the Warrior quintet found the hoop for a 52-48 win. St. Edward went the way of Albion, but the Ord game had a different story. In a rough game with Schuyler the Warriors came out on top 62-50. The last games with Aurora, St. Paul, and Loup City, pitted the Warriors against three fine-shooting clubs who furnished three losses.

Returning Lettermen Bolster

Last year's track squad tallied its points together for a co-championship trophy in the MBN Conference with St. Edward and placed third in the Central Ten Conference Meet. Only three seniors aided in last year's records and this year their positions are being filled by freshmen and sophomores.

This year the schedule has several new meets replacing meets which have been discontinued. The Kearney AAU Indoor Meet will attract the Warrior thinclads as well as the Kearney Invitational Meet.

Prospects look good for a successful track year with many returning lettermen and new squad members to bolster the weak positions. Six sophomores show much promise along with several freshmen who should be of great value to this year's juniors and seniors.

Juniors Present Hit Class Play

The members of the Junior Class put on the three act comedy "The Inner Willy" by Bettye Knapp. The play was about the well-behaved, likable boy named Willoughby Adams who was the "baby" of his three old maid aunts. The fun starts when Willy's aunts line him up with a date with the unattractive girl next door. Then the Inner Willy shows up and changes Willoughby into a man and gets him to stand on his own two feet.

TOP: Willoughby, Val Christensen, feels ill after seeing Inner Willy, Don Johnson; but Willoughby's three aunts, Irene Cunningham, Jeannie Travers, and Lynda Watters think that Willoughby is seeing things.

RIGHT: Mike, Del Rosenberry, gets the once-over by the Inner Willy.

LOWER LEFT: Willoughby is forced by his aunts to ask the unattractive girl next door, Marybelle, played by Jacque Dudney for a date.

LOWER RIGHT: Aunt Louise, L. Watters, asks Willy about remains of the Inner Willy as Willy is about to leave for a date with Carol Martin, Beverly Knowles.

Treva Baker Named Homecoming Queen

Rogalyn Russell, President of the Pep Club, crowned Miss Treva Baker as the 1962 Football Homecoming Queen during the Fullerton-Aurora half time. The attendants to the Homecoming Queen were Dorothy Schlitt, Marilyn Whitney, Janene Boardman, and Sandra Sims. All of the young ladies were active Seniors in the activities of F.H.S.

After the rain marred the football game, the Queen and her attendants were honored at the annual Homecoming Dance.

Miss Janene Boardman was crowned as the 1963 Basketball Queen at F-Club Dance held after the final game of the season.

The Basketball Queen is selected from the senior girls who are members of the Pep Club. From this list the basketball players select five girls and then vote for the queen.

Rogalyn Russell, Sandra Sims, Dorothy Schlitt, and Marilyn Whitney were the other four candidates for the honor. Each of the five girls was active in the Pep Club and its activities.

Black and Wozny Crowned Sweetheart and Beau

An afternoon was spent in beautifully preparing surroundings and atmosphere for the annual F.F.A.-F.H.A. dance. Midway through the evening attention was focused on Miss Janice Whitney and Mr. Terry Twiestmeyer, returning 1962 Sweetheart and Beau, as they crowned the 1963 royalty. Diana and Roger have served four contributive years in their respective organizations. Among other offices in previous years, Diana has served as F.H.A. song leader this year. Roger has accepted the responsibilities of F.F.A. president for two years.

Among the many services provided by the Student Council this year was the badly needed concession stand which they erected at the football field. The stand was used by all organizations. Mr. Dickey sponsored the weekly meetings and many activities throughout the year. Two of the most popular of these activities were the hot soup machine which provided hot lunches for many students and the pop machine. The annual Career Day and College Night was held in October for Fullerton, Genoa, and Belgrade High School students.

Diana Black, President of the Student Council, was assisted by Don Johnson, the Vice-President. Other officers were Don Whitney, Secretary, and Jacque Yetter, Treasurer.

The Freshman class elects one representative to the Student Council. From the sophomore class, one representative is elected and one is carried over. Likewise the Junior class has three and the Senior class has four. The vice-president of each other organization is also included as a member.

Daddy Date Night Big Hit For F.H.A.

Irene Cunningham assumed the duty of overseeing the many activities of the Future Homemakers of America this year. Among the first of her tasks was overseeing the erection of a booth at the Nance County Fair. The sixty-four members of the organization enjoyed the slumber party at the beginning of the year, and later brought their fathers for entertainment at the Daddy Date Night. Members took turns making up displays for the club bulletin board, and all cooperated in the Christmas candy sale. Additional funds were made available by handling of concessions for two games and cookbook sales. With the F.F.A., they sponsored the annual Sweetheart-Beau Dance.

The year was not all fun, however, as the girls also took part in several self-improvement projects, especially the individual Family Unity projects, a panel on "Marriage Calls for Preparation," and the style show of Home Economics projects held in conjunction with installation of new officers.

Community service was not neglected, either, as the girls helped with the Bundles for Children clothing drive, and canvassed the town on Halloween for UNICEF, and on Heart Sunday. They were ably assisted in all their projects by Miss Malone, club sponsor.

F.F.A. Promotes Safety and Leadership Program

F.F.A. boys Don Whitney and Art Delancy work at concessions to earn money for various activities.

The Fullerton F.F.A. Chapter started their year off by sponsoring a watermelon feed for the freshmen in the fall to acquaint them with the F.F.A. and followed a few weeks later by a hayrack ride.

The Chapter is promoting a strong safety and leadership program this year along with introduction of new livestock purchased and added to the existing program. The highlights of the safety program are hunting, driving, farm, and cornpicking safety.

In leadership, tryouts were plentiful for entrance into District Creed and Public Speaking Contest. Manual contests and F.F.A. spelldowns were held often during the year.

The Chapter had three State Farmer Applicants and four State F.F.A. Band applicants. These two fields of F.F.A. interest were displayed at the State Convention in Lincoln.

The year was completed by holding the annual Banquet where accomplishments were stated and outstanding members were honored.

This year new Pep Club uniform sparked interest in the high schoo girls and Warriorette membershi soared to an all-time high of ove eighty members. The purpose of th pep organization is not only to yel for the athletic teams at home an away games, but also to promote feeling of school spirit and develo qualities of leadership and sportsman ship. Any girl in the high school stu dent body is eligible for membershi upon payment of dues. The highlight of the organizational year are the spon soring of the annual Homecoming danc during football season and the danc honoring basketball royalty during th basketball season. This year's officer were Rogalyn Russell, President Jacque Yetter, Vice President; Jod Gilson, Secretary; Carla Baker, Treas urer; and Mrs. Richard Knowles, fac ulty sponsor.

Mr. Kelly looks on and instructs his juniors on erection of their homecoming site. This activity gives other students an opportunity to help the Pep Club develop school spirit.

The F.H.S. Cheerleaders, varsity and reserve, were chosen by a board comprised of faculty members appointed by the administration, Pep Club sponsor and president, coaches and F-Club president, the high school principal and Treva Baker, head cheerleader. These girls were selected on their ability to lead yells and project an over-all feeling of enthusiasm to the student body. The same scholastic standards apply to the cheerleaders as apply to those participants in athletics. This year selections made by the board resulted in one of the finest cheerleading squads in past years. Ability alone did not determine their success but was coupled with strenuous practice sessions and a great deal of originality which produced a number of new yells; all of which was undertaken in their own time.

The varsity cheerleaders for '62-63 are Lynda Lucy, Beverly Knowles, Lynda Watters, Treva Baker, and Janene Boardman.

Judy Schweitz, Karen Nelson, Sally Zaruba, and Lyla Harris are the reserve cheerleaders.

Marching Band and Concert Band

This year thirty-eight band members under the direction of Mr. Gary Yost took part in the marching and concert band seasons. This year the band participated in the Melody Round-Up at Hastings, Nebraska; the Harvest of Harmony at Grand Island, Nebraska; and the annual band clinic. In addition to the out-of-town public appearances, the band made public appearances at all the home football games.

From the band personnel members for the Pep Band were selected. The Pep Band had a busy year playing for all the pep rallies and the home basketball games.

Twirlers for this year were Diana Black, Marilyn Whitney, Adele Mueller, Lana Wondercheck, Sherry McNeff. The two young twirlers kneeling are Debbie Nesbitt and Jacque Robertson.

Chorus Participates in Choral Clinic

Sixty-five members from the boys' and girls' glee club were chosen to participate in mixed chorus after trying out. The music department this year again presented its Christmas concert and spring concert giving all music groups an opportunity to perform before the public. This year the Fullerton chorus attended the Albion Choral Clinic for the eighteenth consecutive year. Four chorus members attended and represented Fullerton at the State Music Clinic held at Norfolk. The students that attended were: Diana Black, Beverly Knowles, Lavern Miller, and Roger Wozny. Jacque Yetter also attended State Clinic participating in the band section.

All chorus members, if they desire, may try out for membership in the small groups. These groups sing for local civic groups, Women's Club, and contest. These small groups hold rehearsals after school hours and participating is the responsibility of each of the members.

Mr. Yost devotes and donates his time before and after school hours to counseling, guiding, and rehearsing these small groups.

Membership in either the boys' or girls' glee club is open to all students who enjoy singing vocal music. In these classes vocalists are taught fundamentals and interpretation of the rudiments of choral music. Some of the vocalists use the knowledge they have gained to sing solos for contest and other leadership activities.

The Y-Teens with the aid of their sponsor Mrs. Dolores Flotree adopted a Korean orphan named Lee Pal Bong. To raise the needed money for Lee's support, the Y-Teens held a talent show and sponsored candy sales and other money raising activities.

Other activities of the Y-Teens this year included the annual sleepless slumber party and a style show for new members. Jackie Underwood, Francis Akers, Sandra Sims, Sharon Marshall, and Treva Baker were the Y-Teen members who attended the summer Y-Teen camp at Camp Merrill. The summer camp this year was made possible by the Y-Teen Council Mothers.

F Club Films Games This Year

The F-Club provides an organization for those students who excel in one or more of the three seasonal sports: football, basketball, or track, and meet requirements for admission. The club was created not only to encourage high school student participation in athletics, but to promote and foster leadership, encourage sportsmanship, and achieve better school spirit. To begin the basketball season, the F-Club again sponsored a Varsity-Faculty scrimmage giving spectators an opportunity to preview the prospective team for the coming season.

Coach Grancer, Larry Grotelueschen, vice president; Kenny Brown, president; Morris McIntyre, sergeant-at-arms; Coach Ehlers, Dennis McCoig, secretary-treasurer.

Warrior Staff Strives for Better Rating

Patsy, Rog, and Frances try to decide which pictures should go into the annual. They have learned that the photos must be just so in order to be attractively reproduced.

This year a well manned staff of six seniors and one junior worked toward the biggest and best annual ever. The WARRIOR took on a new look with a staff-designed cover and the addition of four pages making a total of sixty-four. Annual sales reached an all time high with ninety-seven per cent of the student body purchasing yearbooks.

The staff members were Roger Wozny, Editor; Frances Akers, Assistant Editor; Marilyn Whitney, Class Editor; Treva Baker, Faculty Editor; Patsy Voichahoske, Layout Editor; Jacque Yetter, Activities Editor; and Don Whitney, Business Manager. The group was guided by the experienced hand of Mr. Robert Hendricks.

Don and Jacque plan an advertising campaign to encourage all students to purchase a WARRIOR.

Treva and Marilyn can't see how that "horrible" picture could ever go in the yearbook.
